Orland Will Build $25,000 School

School Vouchers Offer Ideal Investment

The village of Orland is to be congratulated upon the fine showing they are making in the interest of education by way of preparing for the erection of a fine new modern school building in the spring at a cost of $25,000. The site for the school cost $1,000, so that the total cost of the school property will be $26,000. School vouchers making a total issue of $12,000 are being issued and anyone having money to invest will find them an ideal investment from the standpoint of the interest they bear and of their safety. These vouchers serve as a second mortgage on the school property and are backed up with excellent security. The issue is in a series of $3,000, which mature as follows: January, first of 1923, 1924, 1925 and 1926. These vouchers pay 6 per cent interest, semi-annually and are exempt free from Federal income tax.

It is a great credit to the community to be able to point to an up-to-date school, for education is one of the great fundamental principles that uplift and rebuild any community and everyone who possibly can should invest their savings in a sound, good interest paying local proposition which yields them a good income. By investing in sound and safe home securities, the whole community is benefited, whereas if the same money is invested in outside wild-cat investments, the money is lost and the investors as well as the community are the losers.

Raymond Beagley left last Friday for Alpha, Minn., where he and his brother Lenard have rented a farm.

Orland Bank Has A Prosperous Year

Orland has a future and its people are showing the right kind of a spirit in preparing for this future. Anyone wishing to invest in the school vouchers above mentioned can do so by calling Orland Telephone 13 and asking for Mr. A. C. Loebe, who will gladly give all the desired information and data.

The Orland State Bank has just closed a very prosperous year. The reports show that the bank has done an exceedingly profitable business the past year despite the business depression which has been manifest so prominently thruout the country. Cashier George Gee showed a very gratifying report for the year's business. At the annual stockholders' meeting held on January 6th a four per cent dividend was declared and the surplus fund was increased to $3,000. The total business of the bank now is over $100,000, and Mr. Gee estimates that if the coming year is as good as the past has been the bank will reach the $200,000 mark by the next annual meeting. Tuesday of this week was one of the best days this bank has had since it opened for business, as $5,000 worth of business was done on that day. The Orland Bank, while a young institution, is showing a remarkable growth, due primarily to the courteous officials and their aim to be of assistance to the community wherever possible.

Another thing that makes the Orland Bank successful is the fact that they believe in bank advertising. As an illustration of how it pays a bank to advertise its securities, we quote the following:

The Orland Bank has been running a display in The News-Bulletin advertising gold bonds bearing 6 per cent interest. As a result of this ad-

Orland Lutheran Church Plans to Build A New Addition to Church

Orland Lutheran church annual meeting was held with a very good attendance. The treasurer read his report and showed a balance.

It was decided to build a school and meeting room adjoining, and the following men were elected to act as the building committee: Mr. Philip Ebeling, Mr. John Schmadeke, and Mr. Charles Habenicht. These men are to report on plans and the cost of building on February 19.

The Rev. W. C. Greve's salary was raised to a living standard.

Services every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Last Sunday in the month—English services.

The minister is arranging a very instructive series of Lenten services to be held from the first Sunday in March to the first Sunday in April.

Advertising which has been running for a few weeks, over $5,000 worth of these securities have been sold. This bank has contracted for weekly space in The News-Bulletin for a year, and in this space the public will be acquainted with the various profitable securities this bank has to offer. Here is a vivid illustration that bank advertising pays big.

On Monday of this week the annual election of officers and directors was held. Wm. T. Beagley was re-elected president. Louis P. Daniels was re-elected vice-president. John McCord was elected secretary, succeeding A. C. Kay, and George Gee was re-elected cashier.

The following directors were chosen: Wm. T. Beagley, John McCord, L. P. Daniels, George Gee, succeeding W. R. Schussler, John Yunker, Wm. McCanley and E. J. Newton.

J. W. Owen and J. R. Bentley In Race For Legislative Offices

James W. Owen of Mokena, well known farmer and president of the Will County Farmers' Institute has entered politics and has announced himself as candidate for representative for the 41st senatorial district.

In an interview with the News-BULLETIN Wednesday night, Mr. Owen stated that he had changed his plans and would not move to Evanston as he had originally planned, but would continue to reside in Will County after he leaves the farm. He declared his Farm Bureau friends were largely responsible for his new decision as they urged him to enter the political arena. Mr. Owen further stated that there is need of more legislation benefiting the farmer and therefore a number of leading agriculturists of the county have entered the race for legislative offices. Mr. Owen is a candidate for the office mentioned on the Republican ticket. The primaries will be held April 11.

James K. Bentley of New Lenox who has served as representative from this district in the legislature is a candidate again this campaign. Mr. Bentley filled his office creditably and his many friends are anxious to see him

MOKENA OIL WELL TO BE SUNK 2200 FEET, RAISE FUND

The Mokena oil well organization which was just about to disband after having sunk a prospect well on the Schmitt farm to a depth of a thousand feet, was given new courage when the reports were read of the sinking of a big paying oil well near Decatur, Ill., at a depth of 2,066 feet. At the meeting of the shareholders held at Hatch Hall Saturday night the matter was gone over in full detail and it was shown that as the drill has gone thru shale rock and pay sand this would indicate that oil is likely to be found at a lower strata. It was shown that the promoters of the Decatur well had almost given up hopes of finding oil when the big paying well was brought in.

As a result of careful deliberation it was said that the Mokena well was not even a good test well at a depth of 1,000 feet, and that it should at least be sunk 2,200 feet in order to make it a good test well. Accordingly the shareholders invested more money and hustled out and got new shareholders to invest and all this week big interest and activity is marking the further progress of the well. Drilling operations had ceased when it was thought that the prospecting work would have to cease, but drilling was started again Tuesday morning.

There are over 102 shareholders in the Mokena organization with new ones being added right along. If a paying well is brought in as there was at Decatur then this section will build up and there will be a real boom. Decatur is having such a boom. Hundreds of people are flocking there and hotels and lunch rooms are going up like mushrooms. Mokena and surrounding country is still in high hopes that they may perhaps even have a "gusher" on their holdings here, who knows?

TINLEY PARK P. M. GETS TREAS. CERTIFICATES

Postmaster C. Andres has received his allotment of the new issue of Treasury Savings Certificates and is now in position to receive subscriptions from any person having from $20 to $1,000 to invest. The new certificates yield 4 1/2 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually.

Money invested at this rate increases 25 per cent in 5 years. For every $20 invested this month, the Government will pay $25 in 5 years, and for every $1,000 invested, the Government will pay $1,250.

Born on Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jorgenson, a daughter, Mrs. Jorgenson will be remembered as formerly Miss Frances Hopkins.

Engineers who will have charge of building the new concrete road thru here next summer have been in town the past week looking up arrangements for switch track facilities to handle the large volume of stone which is to be shipped in here while the highway is in course of construction.

GERMAN M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Rev. Zeuner, Pastor. The German M. E. church has just begun a new innovation by starting to hold prayer meeting every week. The first prayer meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Louise Andres Thursday. These meetings will be held weekly at the home of some member of the church.

Two new members, Mrs. Henry Bettenhausen and Mrs. John Bettenhausen, joined the M. E. church last Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the German M. E. church will meet next Thursday.

The quarterly conference was held Sunday morning with Dr. Muffinger of Chicago in charge. There was a good attendance.

On Wednesday evening the Epworth League held a business meeting. The Epworth League choir practice was also held the same night.

Rev. Zeuner attended a ministerial conference in Chicago Monday.

TO BUILD FLATS

The renting problem in Tinley Park will be somewhat solved when new flats will be finished in the old Tinley Park Hall building owned by Mrs. M. Stockman. She has purchased the lumber and other materials and work on remodeling the hall into flats will be started at an early date. Tinley Park could get many more new desirable residents if there was a chance of renting a place.

A birthday party was held Monday at the home of John Andres, Jr. A good time is reported.

Edward Henke was a Chicago business visitor Monday.

The promoters of the new proposed Athletic Club met again last Friday night at the Saenger Hall. Nothing definite has been done as yet toward perfecting the organization.

The Tinley Park Volunteer Fire Department members lost out on a hop at Matteson Saturday night because their new uniforms did not arrive. They had intended to attend the hop given by the Matteson Fire Department, but did not want to go without their uniforms.

This coming Saturday night the Tinley Park Volunteer Fire Department members will hold their annual masquerade ball at the Saenger Hall. The business men have given liberal prizes and a big time is looked for. There will be good music and plenty of it.

The Blue Island Bowlers held a dance at the Saenger Hall last Saturday night.

H. C. Vogt has been busily engaged taking his yearly store inventory this week.

A card party was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Nieman last Wednesday night. This week Wednesday a card party was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Mancke.

The Three Arts Club meet at their club rooms Friday night.

MATTESON SITE FOR $300,000 CHEMICAL PLANT

The K. I. Herman Chemical Corporation, a $300,000 concern is going to locate at Matteson on the south side of the J railroad. The company proposes to erect a modern 3 story building 140 ft. long and 60 ft. wide. The company will manufacture chemical used in sizing by paper box manufacturing plants and will employ about 30 people. Matteson people have subscribed for $50,000 worth of stock in this concern thru the Matteson State Bank. Mr. (Herman, the promoter of this concern is said to be quite well known to some of the Matteson business men and has the credit of being a live wire.

C. M. CLEVELAND QUILTS ACTIVE FARMING

Mr. Jay R. Butler has rented the Clarence Cleveland farm including live stock and tools, taking charge on Jan. 1st.

Mr. Cleveland who was compelled by long illness to give up his farm duties, will continue to occupy part of the farm residence and will now be able to take a much needed rest.

A Story of the Builders of Democracy

"The mystery of woman can not be solved by intellectual processes," the young man remarked. "Observation is the only help and mine has been mostly telescopic. We have managed to keep ourselves separated by a great distance even when we were near each other. It has been like looking at a star with a very limited parallax. It's a joy to be able to see you with the naked eye."

"You will have little to look at on this holiday but me and the prairies," said Bim.

"I think the prairies will be neglected. I shall wear my cavalry uniform and try to get a pair of the best horses in Chicago for the trip."

"Then you would have to get mine. I have a handsome pair of black young horses from Ohio—real high steppers. It is to be my party. You will have to take what comes and make the best of it."

The day of their journey arrived—a warm, bright, cloudless day in September, 1841. The long story of those years of separation was told as they rode along. Biggs had been killed in a drunken brawl at Alton. Davis had gone to the far West—a thoroughly discredited man. Henry Brimstead had got his new plow on the market and was prospering beyond all his hopes. Eli had become a merchant of unusual ability and vision. His

It is a long letter presenting minute details in the history of that sentimental journey and allusion to matters which have no part in this record. Its substance being fully in the consciousness of the writer, he tenderly folds it up and returns it to the package—yellow and brittle and faded and having that curious fragrance of papers that have lain for scores of years in the gloom and silence of a locked mahogany drawer. So alive are these letters with the passion of youth in long forgotten years that the writer ties the old ribbon and returns them to their tomb with a feeling of sadness, finding a singular pathos in the contrast of their look and their contents. They are turning to dust, but the soul of them has gone into this little history.

The young man and woman mounted their horses and resumed their journey. It was after two o'clock. The Grand Prairie lay ahead of them. The settlement of Plain's End was twenty-one miles away on its farther side. They could just see its tall oak trees in the dim distance.

"We must hurry, if we get there before dark," said the girl. "Above all, we must be careful to keep our direction. It's easy to get lost down in the great prairie."

They heard a cat-bird singing in a near thicket as they left their camp. It reminded Bim of her favorite ballad and she sang it with the spirit of old:

"My sweetheart, come along—
Don't you hear the glad song
As the notes of the nightingale flow?
Don't you hear the fond tale of the sweet nightingale
As she sings in the valleys below?
As she sings in the valleys below?"

They went on, shoulder-deep in the tall grass on the lower stretches of the prairie. Here and there it gave Harry the impression that he was swimming his horse in "noisy, vivid green water." They startled a herd of deer and a number of wild horses. When they lost sight of the woods at Plain's End the young man, with his cavalry training, was able to ride standing on his saddle until he had it located.

It reminded him of riding in the Everglades and he told of his adventures there as they went on, but very modestly. He said not a word of his heroic fight the day that he and sixty of his comrades were cut off and surrounded in the "land of the grassy waters." But Bim had heard the story from other lips.

Late in the afternoon the woods loomed in front of them, scarcely a mile off. Near the end of the prairie they came to a road which led them past the door of a lonely cabin. It seemed to be deserted, but its windows were clean and a faint column of smoke rose from its chimney. There were hollyhocks and sunflowers in its small and cleanly dooryard. A morning-glory vine had been trained around the windows.

"Broad creek is just beyond," said Bim. "I don't know how the crossing will be."

They came presently to the creek, unexpectedly swollen. A man stood on the farther shore with some seventy feet of deep and rapid water between him and the travelers.

"That man looks like Stephen Nuckles," said Harry.

"It is Stephen Nuckles," Bim answered.

"Howdy, Steve!" the young soldier called.

"Howdy, boy!" said the old minister. "That ar creek is b'lin' over. I reckon you'll have to swim the hosses."

They tried, but Bim's horse refused to go beyond good footing.

"You kin light at that ar house an' spend the night, but the folks have gone erway," the minister called.

"I guess you'll have to marry us right here and now," Harry proposed. "Night is coming and that house is our only refuge."

"Poor boy! There seems to be no escape for you!" Bim exclaimed with a sigh. "Do you really and honestly want to marry me? If there's any doubt about it I'll leave the horses with you and swim the creek. You could put them in the barn and swim with me or spend the night in the cabin."

"It's a cool evening and the creek is very wet," he answered. "I'm going to take this matter in my own hands."

He called to the minister. "Steve, this is the luckiest moment of my life and you are just the man of all others I would have chosen for its most important job. Can you stand right where you are and marry us?"

"You bet, I kin, suh," the minister answered. "I've often said I could marry any one half a mile erway if they would only talk as loud as I kin. I've got the good book right here in my pocket, suh. My ol' woman is comin'. She'll be hyah in a minute fer to witness the preecedin's."

Mrs. Nuckles made her appearance on the river bank in a short time.

Then the minister shouted: "We'll begin by readin' the nineteenth chapter of Matthew."

He shouted the chapter and the usual queries, knelt and prayed and pronounced them man and wife.

The young man and woman walked to the cabin and put their horses in its barn, where they found an abundance of hay and oats. They rapped at the cabin door, but got no response. They lifted its latch and entered.

A table stood in the middle of the room, set for two. On its cover of spotless white linen were plates and cups and saucers and a big platter of roasted prairie chickens and a great frosted cake and preserves and jellies and potato salad and a pie and a bottle of currant wine. A clock was ticking on the shelf. There were live embers in the fireplace and wood in the box, and venison hanging in the chimney.

The young soldier looked about him and smiled.

"This is wonderful!" he exclaimed. "To whom are we indebted?"

"You don't think I'd bring you out here on the plains and marry you and not treat you well," Bim laughed. "I warned you that you'd have to take what came and that the hospitality would be simple."

"It's a noble and benevolent conspiracy that has turned this cabin into a paradise and brought all this happiness upon me," he said as he kissed her. "I thought it strange that Mr. Nuckles should be on hand at the right moment."

"The creek was a harder thing to manage!" she answered with a smile. "I told my messenger to see that the gate of the reservoir was opened at four o'clock. So, you see, you had to marry or swim. Now I've made a clean breast of it. I felt sure something would happen before you got back from Milwaukee. I was plum superstitious about it."

The young man shook with laughter and said: "You are the new woman born of the democracy of the West."

"I began to fear that I should be an old woman before I got to be Mrs. Nuckles."

"Whose house is this?" he asked in a moment.

"It is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lukins. Their land near Chicago is now used for a cattle yard and slaughterhouse and is paying them a good income. They moved here some time ago. He looks after the reservoir. Mrs. Lukins is a famous cook, as you will see. We can stay here as long as we want to. We shall find everything we need in the well, the chimney, the buttry and the cellar. And here is the wedding supper all ready for us and I as hungry as a bear."

"In the words of Mrs. Lukins 'It is very copasetic,' and I begin to feel that I have made some progress in the study of Bim Kelso. Come, let's have our supper."

"Not until you have broiled a piece of venison. It will take a lot of food to satisfy me. I'll get the cream and butter out of the well and make a pot of coffee. Hurry up, Harry, I'm starving."

Darkness fell upon the busy lovers and soon the firelight and the glow of

They sat down to this unusual wedding feast, and as we leave them the windows of the little cabin fling their light far out upon the level plain; we hear the sound of merry laughter and of the tall grasses rustling and reeling joyously in the breeze. The moon in mid-heaven and the innumerable host around it seem to know what is passing on the edge of the Grand Prairie and to be well pleased. Surely there is nothing that finds a quicker echo in the great heart of the world than human happiness!

CHAPTER XXV.

Being a Brief Memoir by the Honorable and Venerable Man Known in These Pages as Josiah Traylor, Who Saw the Great Procession of Events Between Andrew Jackson and Woodrow Wilson and Especially the Making and the End of Lincoln.

Now, as I have done often sitting in the chimney corner at the day's end, I look back at my youth and manhood and tell, with one eye upon the clock, of those years of fulfillment in the progress of our beloved pilgrim. There are four and twenty of them that I shall try to review in as many minutes. At this distance I see only the high places—one looming above another like steps in a stairway.

The years of building and sentiment ended on the fourth of November, 1842, when he and Mary Todd were joined in marriage. Now, like one having taken note of the storm clouds, he strengthens the structure.

Mary tried to teach him fine manners. It was a difficult undertaking. Often, as might have been expected, she lost her patience. Mary was an excellent girl, but rather kindlesome and pragmatic. Like most of the prairie folk, for instance, Abe Lincoln had been accustomed to reach for the butter with his own knife, and to find rest in attitudes extremely indolent and unbecoming. He enjoyed sprawling on the floor in his shirt-sleeves and slippers with a pillow under his head and a book in his hand. He had a liking for ample accommodation, not fully satisfied by a bed or a lounge. Mary undertook to turn him into new ways and manners, but there was irritation in the house, but I think they got along very well together for all that. Mary grew fond of him and proud of his great talents and was a devoted wife. For years she did the work of the house and bore him children. He milked the cow and took care of the horse when he was at home.

Annabel and I, having just been married, went with him to Washington on our wedding tour in 1847. He was taking his seat in congress that year. We were with him there when he met Webster. Lincoln was deeply impressed by the quiet dignity of the great man. We went together to hear Emerson lecture. It was a motley audience—business men, fashionable ladies and gentlemen, statesmen, politicians, women with their knitting and lion-hunters. The tall, awkward orator ascended the platform, took off his top-coat and drew a manuscript from his pocket. He had a narrow, sloping forehead, a prominent nose, gray eyes and a skin of singular transparency. His voice was rich and mellow, but not strong. Lincoln listened with rapt attention to his talk about Democracy. It was a memorable night. He spoke of it often. Such contact with the great spirits of that time, of which he studiously availed himself in Washington, was of great value to the statesman from Illinois. His experiences on the floor were in no way important to him, but since 1914 I have thought often of what he said there, regarding Polk's invasion of Mexico, unauthorized by congress as it was:

"The provision of the Constitution giving the war-making power to congress was dictated, as I understand it, by the following reasons: Kings had always been involving and impoverishing their people in wars, pretending generally that the good of the people was the object. This our convention understood to be the most oppressive of all kingly oppressions and they proposed to so frame the constitution that no man should hold the power of bringing this oppression upon us."

The next year he stumped Massachusetts for "Zach" Taylor and heard Gov. Seward deliver his remarkable speech on slavery, which contained this striking utterance:

"Congress has no power to inhibit any duty commanded by God on Mount Sinai or by His Son on the Mount of Olives."

To Get Rid of Red Ants.

The following is recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture: Make a sirup of ordinary cane sugar and water, rather thin, with the addition of not more than three-fourths of 1 per cent sodium arsenate, which is poison. Saturate small sponges with the sirup and place about where the ants are found. They carry the mixture to their nests and feed it to their young and queens, which eventually destroys the colony.

The Poet's Business.

The duty of the poet is like unto that of the naturalist; it is to pursue and capture those rare specimens of thought that have hitherto escaped the hunter's net; incase in crystal-clear diction these captive beauties of nature; and offer them, 'mid the wild-flowers of their native haunts, for the admiration, reverence and love of all mankind.

Honest Paris.

A black satchel containing $55,000 in cash was found on the seat of a Paris omnibus one morning recently, writes a correspondent. It had been forgotten by a bank messenger, who was greatly relieved to find that the conductor of the omnibus had duly delivered it to the lost property office, where it lay among umbrellas and odd gloves awaiting reclamation.

The Long Story Was Told as They Rode Along.

square dealing and good sense had done much to break down prejudice against the Jews in the democracy of the West. Samson Traylor was getting wealth and a reputation for good sense. He had made the plan on which the business had developed. He had proved himself a wise and far-seeing man. Sarah's friends had been out in Springfield for a visit. They had invested money in the business. Her brother had decided to bring his family West and settle in Sangamon county.

Agents of the store were traveling in Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana selling its goods to country dealers. They carried with them the progressive and enlightened spirit of the city and the news. Everywhere they insisted upon a high standard of honesty in business. A man who had no respect for his contract was struck off the list. They spread the everyday religion of the counting room. They were a welcome unifying and civilizing force in the middle country.

The lovers stopped in a grove at noon and fed their horses and Harry built a fire and made a broach of green sticks on which he broiled beef-steak.

A letter from Harry to Sarah Traylor tells of the beauty of the day.

"It was my great day of fulfillment, all the dearer because I had come back to health and youth and beloved scenes out of those years shadowed with loneliness and despair," he writes. "The best part of it, I assure you, was the face I loved and that musical voice ringing like a bell in merry laughter and in the songs which had stirred my heart in the days of its tender youth. You—the dear and gentle mother of my later boyhood—are entitled to know of my happiness when I heard that voice tell me in its sweetest tone of the love which has endured through all these years of stern trial. We talked of our plans as we sat among the ferns and mosses in the cool shade sweetened by the incense of burning fagots, over that repast to which we shall be returning often for refreshment in poorer days. We had thought of you and of the man so well beloved of you and us in all these plans. We shall live in Springfield so that we may be near you and him and our friend, Honest Abe."

Making Good an Old Boast.

A process has been discovered whereby old leather can be converted into gelatin. Such transformation offers a ready way of utilizing many articles after their value to every one but the junk man appears to be gone. Since head coverings are sometimes made of leather, it would appear that at least the man confident that his candidate will win in an election may literally back up his confidence with the time-honored promise that he will eat his hat in the event that his man loses.

HELP INVALIDS TO FORGET

Presence of a Canary or Goldfish in the Sickroom Invariably Has Beneficial Effect.

Next time you sit in a room, the furnishings of which include a bowl of goldfish, consider how much time you spend watching the small fish as they swim slowly about or dart about in pursuit of each other.

Probably you will conclude you were indulging the usual tendency of the normal person to be attracted to moving objects. In sick persons and convalescents this tendency is more pronounced, and in the aged and very young it is still more so.

That psychology of this attraction was given by Dr. Edward N. Leavy, formerly veterinarian to the animals in Central park zoo. He is now connected with a Fifth avenue pet store. "Sick persons lying in bed spend a great deal of time watching the goldfish if an aquarium is in their room," he said. "It takes their minds off their pains and aches and is very beneficial."

Canaries share with goldfish the honor of being the chief animate entertainment to the sick.—New York Sun.

The Wrong Foot.

From a telegram recently received by the district superintendent of an Indian railway from a Babu station master: "Coming on duty early in the morning clad in my new and white uniform I perceived a man seated on a box in a naked and aggressive manner. Taking him to be an ordinary passenger, I proceeded to slap him, whereupon he hastily arose, unlocked the said box, clad himself in a policeman's uniform he took thereout and arrested me. The shoe is thus situated on the erroneous peddle. Please arrange."—London Morning Post.

National Emblems.

The rose, England's national flower, was chosen as the country's symbol at the close of the War of the Roses. The shamrock is firmly imbedded in Irish hearts because St. Patrick used it to illustrate one of his sermons. The thistle was adopted as the national emblem of Scotland because, in the reign of Malcolm II, a moat filled with thistles saved a Scotch fortress from Danish invasion.

A Forgotten Art.

In New York's streets there may be counted hundreds of signs that read "Watchmaker." Yet perhaps less than a dozen of such concerns could make a watch.

The crooked path is longest.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

SERVE SONS OF VETERANS

During the five days of the Confederate Veterans' reunion, held at Chattanooga, boy scouts were on duty daily from 18 to 20 hours a day, meeting trains, acting as guides and messengers, serving sandwiches and coffee, helping manage traffic as well as other small and big offices in behalf of the veterans, who were loud in their praise of their young friends' work.

The following resolution was passed by the Sons of Confederate Veterans in assembly:

"Resolved, by the Sons of Confederate Veterans that a special vote of thanks be extended to the boy scouts of the city of Chattanooga for the magnificent manner in which they have discharged their duties during the reunion, and by their untiring efforts in behalf of the veterans of their city have shown plainly to all the people attending this reunion that they are worthy sons of worthy sires, and that they will keep up the spirit that has made the South famous in song and story."

W. N. Hudeburg, chairman of the reunion committee, remarked that if he had to name any one factor that deserved more mention than any others toward making the reunion a success he would name "that wonderful organization, the boy scouts."

WHEN BOY SCOUT IS HURT

Practically Every Boy Scout Has the Ability to Render First Aid When Necessary.

A DIFFERENT WAY

In commenting on the service rendered by scouts at the American Legion convention at Kansas City, Herbert Corey, a journalist, makes this interesting comparison:

"Time was when a kid was more or less of a nuisance around such a gathering as this. He was either in the hall, under everyone's feet, because he wanted to see, or being barred from the hall, he clustered in windows and looked through doors and saw anyhow. He had no more reverence for authority than an Eskimo has for the Grand Lama. He was engaged in learning something of this world he lives in, and he was learning in the time-honored way in which boys have learned—by being a terrible trial to his elders and by not being discouraged."

"The boy scout way has been a different way. All that energy and perseverance and courage that every proper kid displays as a matter of course in the current of his daily life has been turned to good account. Instead of being a nuisance, he has been made into a help. He has been taught to see the dignity and honor of service, too, so that no honorable task seems menial to him, and no obstacle is ever permitted to hold him back. If the Legion—valuing Americanism as it does and was shown by the resolutions adopted—does not take these boys into full fellowship of spirit—strike out that if. The boys are already in."

A HARDING TROOP.

Troop number 12 of Kewanee, Ill., has been reorganized and is now known as the Harding Troop. On organizing, the scout scribe wrote to President Harding asking for an autographed photograph if he cared to send one to the troop that was named after him. The President "came across" and the troop is now the proud possessor of a large photograph which bears the inscription "With Salutations to Harding Troop, Boy Scouts, Warren G. Harding."

Help Your Kidneys Fight That Cold! Winter Colds and Chills Weaken the Kidneys and Are the Direct Cause of Many Serious Kidney Disorders

Is winter-time your backache-time? Does every cold, chill or attack of grip leave you lame, aching and all worn out? Does your back throb and ache until it seems you just can't keep going another day?

Then look to your kidneys! Grip, colds and chills throw a heavy strain on the kidneys. They overload the blood with poisons and impurities that the kidneys have to filter off. The kidneys weaken under this rush of new work; become congested and inflamed.

It's little wonder then, that every cold finds you suffering with torturing backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities.

But don't worry! Simply realize that your kidneys are overworked at such times and need assistance. Get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills today and give your weakened kidneys the help they need. Assist them also by drinking pure water freely, eating lightly, and getting plenty of fresh air and rest. Doan's Kidney Pills have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Good Folks:

J. R. JOHNSON, Prop. Auto Top Repair and Furniture Upholstering Shop, 318 West Williams St., Danville, Ill., says: "I had a cold that settled on my kidneys, disordering them and making my back lame and sore. I could hardly bend at all. The irregular passage of the kidney secretions at night broke my rest. I found Doan's Kidney Pills just the remedy to help the trouble and regulate my kidneys. The weak, sore feeling left my back and the relief has been permanent."

MRS. FRANK GANLEY, DeMay St., Harbor Beach, Mich., says: "I had a lame back and irregular kidney action, brought on by a cold settling in my kidneys. My back was heavy and tired, which made me feel draggy and played out without a bit of ambition. At night my back bothered me so much I was restless and felt tired on getting up mornings. Dizzy spells would come over me and black specks darted before me. A friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and after using one box I was relieved."

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS

There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of distressing cases. Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

Start treatment at once. Sold at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

Smack That Child.

A mother was reproving her little six-year-old girl for being naughty.

"If you are so tiresome and disagreeable," she said, "you will not be loved, and when you grow up your friends will be few."

The child replied at once:

"I shall not want any friends, for I shall get married."

"Oh, no," replied mother, "you will not get married if you are disagreeable, for gentlemen are particular."

After a short pause, the little girl remarked:

"Well, mummy, I don't think daddy was particular."

Price of eternal vigilance is wrinkles.

Daddy In a Bad Way.

Six-year-old Lois, whose father is professor of English at the university, delights in using "big" words. One day she heard her mother saying over the phone to one of her husband's students:

"No, Mr. B— cannot keep appointment, I'm afraid; he is very indisposed this afternoon."

Some days later Lois, while playing, was overheard to say to an imaginary caller at the door:

"No; my husband cannot see you today; he is very much decomposed!"—Indianapolis Star.

WESTERN CANADA Land of Prosperity

offers to home seekers opportunities that cannot be secured elsewhere. The thousands of farmers from the United States who have accepted Canada's generous offer to settle on FREE homesteads or buy farm land in her provinces have been well repaid by bountiful crops. There is still available on easy terms

Fertile Land at $15 to $30 an Acre—land similar to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre—oats, barley and flax also in great abundance, while raising horses, cattle, sheep and hogs is equally profitable. Hundreds of farmers in western Canada have raised crops in a single season worth more than the whole cost of their land. With such success comes prosperity, independence, good homes and all the comforts and conveniences which make life worth living.

You are entitled to the benefit of the doubt. Why not take advantage of it?

The law is very careful in protecting the rights of a prisoner charged with a crime.

How about the Law of Common Sense and the man who has committed an error only? Isn't this a good place to use the benefit of the doubt, too?

Take your own case: If you don't know for sure whether tea or coffee is harming you, you do know that many are harmed by the drug element in tea and coffee, and that headaches, nervousness, or high blood pressure are symptoms which often tell that the drug, caffeine, is giving the nervous system too much jolt.

Probably you know, too, that some people can't drink a cup of tea or coffee at bed-time, and sleep well that night.

Where many have been harmed by tea and coffee, and you may be harmed, isn't it well to put the benefit of the doubt on your side before doubt becomes an unpleasant certainty?

There's charm without harm in Postum—a pure cereal beverage, rich in flavor, fully satisfying; the favorite table drink of thousands.

Suppose you try giving yourself this benefit today, and keep up the test for ten days; then judge the results. See if you don't feel better and work better. You can get Postum wherever good food and drink are sold or served.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in time made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

NEW LENOX

The Home Improvement club will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Osmus next Wednesday, January 18.

There will be a Parish meeting of the Episcopal church Saturday night in Grange Hall for the purpose of electing all officers of the church for this year.

New Lenox friends were grieved to learn of the robbery that had taken place at the home of Walter Busch on the West side of Joliet. Mr. and Mrs. Busch had left home at 7 o'clock to go to church and when they returned at 10, found the rugs, cut glass, silverware, and nearly all of their clothing had been taken by some unknown persons. No line at this time has been found of the miscreants.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Corp were in Chicago Tuesday on business.

Last Thursday while Mrs. Harlow Francis was setting a pair of milk down which she had just scalded to be given to the stock, in some way her oldest son, George, who is four years old, sat down in it. He was very badly burned from his shoulders to his ankles. The deepest burns being around the waist where the clothing was most snug and more difficult to get off. Dr. Grant Houston of Joliet was called, who dressed the wounds. It is not known yet if skin will have to be grafted on or not, but indications point that way.

Mrs. Chas. Cooper is very ill with pneumonia. A trained nurse is in attendance. Her sister who has been assisting Mrs. Philips taking care of the old people in the Old People's home at Edgewood, Ill., returned home to be with Mrs. Cooper, as did also the latter's daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stephens, of Dwight, Ill.

Mr. Walter Marshall is ill with sore throat and la grippe.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church are thinking very much of putting on a four course entertainment this season. If they decide to do so, the first of the series will be given the last Friday in January.

The Woodmen held their regular meeting in Grange Hall Monday

TINLEY PARK

A large concourse of friends and neighbors besides a large circle of relatives attended the final rites over John Fulton, the pioneer settler of Bremen township held at the late home on Friday afternoon. Rev. A. F. Clark of Chicago and Rev. Elmer Palmer, pastor of the local M. E. church officiated. Mrs. A. B. Snider of Blue Island, Mrs. Edward Henke and Miss Grace Fulton of Tinley Park sang at the services. Six nephews served as pallbearers. John Fulton was born Dec. 8, 1838 in Belfast Ireland. He came to America with his parents in 1839 landing in New York where they lived for five years. In 1844 they came westward and settled in Bremen township where the deceased resided ever since. Mr. Fulton was a remarkable man for his age and delighted in telling stories of frontier life when the Red man roamed the praries in

The Hoyt Garage has opened for business in the former Wm. Funk livery barn. Mr. and Mrs. Funk have moved to Oak Forest and Elmer Joyce and family have moved into their dwelling in Tinley Park.

Mrs. Henry Kammer visited in Chicago Monday.

George Stockman who recently injured his right arm by falling on an icy walk is getting along nicely. He has resumed his duties as teacher of the Oak Forest school.

Dr. and Mrs. Eckstadt motored to Chicago Sunday and visited with their son Albert, at the University.

Henry Brandau and family will move to the J. C. Andres residence the forepart of February. Mr. and Mrs. Andres will move in with Mrs. Elizabeth Hardinger in the Andres Building.

Dr. Jacobi, assistant to Dr. John Dill Robinson of the Chicago City Health Department, has been here the past week inspecting the dairy farms and seeking contagious disease. Thus far no such disease has been reported.

Mrs. Henry Glegewartz is on the sick list.

Henry Brandau who has been seriously ill for a long time is much improved.

Mrs. Roemer who has also been quite ill is showing signs of improvement.

ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH

Rev. A. Budenhagen, Pastor

The annual Congregational meeting of the Zion Lutheran church will be held Sunday at 2 p. m.

The Ladies' Aid Society met last Wednesday with Mrs. August Messenbrink. The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Fred Schmiedeknecht.

Vice-president, Mrs. George Boldt.

Secretary, Mrs. John Boyer.

Treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Mancke.

The Luther League met Thursday at the Berman school house. Two new members were received. The next social meeting will be held the third Thursday in the month at the home of Clarence Goessel.

ILLINOIS
STATE NEWS

Rumors of trouble that threatens a coal miners' strike gained weight when Illinois coal operators declared for an immediate reduction in wages and elimination of the check-off system. Officials of the United Mine workers of America have repeatedly warned that abolition of the check-off—the system under which union dues of miners are deducted from the pay—would result in a strike. The attitude of Illinois operators became known in connection with a telegram sent to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, following a joint meeting of the Illinois Coal Operators' association of the Fifth and Ninth districts, and the Central Illinois Coal Operators' association. This telegram protested against Lewis' action in calling off a joint conference at which operators and union representatives were to discuss a wage scale of 1922. The meeting, it is said, was called off when Pennsylvania and southern Ohio operators refused to take part. Reports indicate these operators intend to abolish the check-off system and to negotiate a wage scale directly with the workers. Despite this complication, the telegram insisted that a wage parley be arranged at once.

Three brothers, Earl, Edward and Lex Hall of Flora, have been identified as the robbers of the State Bank of Iuka, who escaped with $20,000 on December 20 after a thrilling chase led by Miss Mildred Kelley, a bank employee. The brothers were taken to Salem in default of $20,000 bond each. Edward and Lex Hall were identified by bank employees as the two men who forced the cashier and assistant cashier into ante room before robbing the bank, while Earl was identified as the man who waited outside the bank in an automobile while the robbery was being committed. Police say other arrests in connection with the robbery may follow.

The Illinois constitutional convention adjourned until January 31 without having transacted any actual business. Downstate and Chicago delegates were much nearer an agreement over the technical proposal of limitation of Cook county's legislative representation than they have been at any previous stage. Thirteen downstate delegates gave definite assurance to the Cook county contingent that they would never vote for the so-called "county representation" plan. With this assurance, the upstate delegation did not hesitate to proceed with the recess plan.

Shawneetown, as an attraction for farmers to attend community gatherings at which important discussions on farm matters and community questions are being held. The idea has met with much success and large attendances are being recorded. Packed houses are reported at the meetings which have been held on evenings when the weather permitted road travel. Besides the motion pictures, a program is arranged for the evening meetings, at which some topic of general interest is brought up for a free discussion.

Once the largest city in Illinois, Nauvoo today is a town without a railroad, and its citizens are proud of it. Nauvoo was here before the railroads, they say, and will still be here when aircraft have classed the railroads with the dodo. Incidentally, situated at the halfway spot between Chicago and St. Louis, Nauvoo is an ideal site for a control station for land and water planes, they assert.

Chicago burglars, who broke into the office of the H. H. Zaininger Coal company at Naperville and loaded a three ton safe on a motor truck and drove away, got one dime for their trouble. Just before closing time the cashier of the company took $1,100 out of the safe and put it in the bank. He left a dime in the strong box for good luck, he said. Neither the burglars nor the safe have been found.

Judgment by default against the Conover-McHenry Grain company of Peoria and Springfield for more than $350,000 was awarded creditors by Circuit Judge E. S. Smith at Springfield. Bankruptcy proceedings in the Federal court are pending against the grain company.

Heavy losses of horses are reported by farmers living in the vicinity of Weldon. They attribute the animals' deaths to what is known as the corn-stalk disease.

James C. McQuigg, one of the organizers of the Grand Army of the Republic, is dead at Pana, age eighty-three.

A large Chicago department store announced a 16-ounce loaf of bread for 4 cents. A chain of groceries offer the same loaf at 5 cents.

Proof of service to benefit by the $55,000,000 Illinois' soldiers' bonus, should the measure be approved by the people of the state next November, will be demanded of all ex-service men and women. Blanks are being sent out by Adjutant General Dickson for the purpose.

Stone from Quincy's municipal quarry will be used in the construction of new hard roads in the vicinity of Quincy, it is reported. Its use will lessen the cost of roads by eliminating freight rates and long hauls of material.

Votes in the December 23 primaries for the nomination of delegates to fill six vacancies in the constitutional convention cost in the neighborhood of $20 each, according to estimates, when it was announced that 5,300 votes were cast in the six districts. There was but one Socialist vote in the six districts. With it H. B. Ballah won the Socialist nomination in the Twenty-second district. Republicans cast 3,801 votes, Democrats 1,438 and the Farmer Labor party 60. Nominations for the special elections January 23 by districts follow: Second, Republican, George W. Tebbens; Democratic, Abraham Yarmo. Twentieth, Republican, Charles D. Cary; Democratic, James H. Mallaney; Farmer Labor, T. B. O'Connor. Twenty-second, Republican, B. H. Pinnell; Democratic, Thomas O'Connell; Socialist, H. B. Ballah; Farmer Labor, John T. Bann. Twenty-seventh, Republican, Joseph Parker; Democratic, Stanley Adamkiewicz. Fortieth, Republican, Edward E. Anams; Democratic, Francis M. Guinn. Forty-fifth, Republican, B. L. Catron. Fortieth, Luther Park; Farmer Labor, John Hindmarsh. Delegates selected January 23 will take their seats January 31.

Howard Leonard, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, charges that the Illinois tax commission, instead of reducing the assessed valuation upon Illinois lands as reported, in reality has increased the valuation approximately $56,000,000. "The statement carried in the press that the commission reduced the assessed valuation upon Illinois lands is misleading," Mr. Leonard said. "The statement issued by the tax commission in Springfield at its final session gave the impression that the farmers of this state were indebted to the commission for a slice of some $56,000,000 in the assessments on land. What the farmers did get at the hands of the present commission was an increase of approximately $55,000,000 over the aggregate valuation in the counties."

State Auditor Russel and his banking assistant, M. F. Dunlap of Jacksonville, have been given until January 16 to file their answers and make their defense in the suits for accounting brought by Attorney General Brundage against five former state treasurers and their bondsmen, alleging shortages of approximately $2,300,000. This was the first defensive move in the six civil cases filed last November against former treasurers—State Auditor Russel, Governor Small, Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling, Edward E. Mitchell and William Ryan, Jr. Dunlap was one of Russel's bondsmen during both his terms as state treasurer in 1909-1911 and 1916-1917.

Col. A. V. Smith, state's attorney of Lake county, filed the state's bill of particulars in the conspiracy case against Gov. Len Small and Vernon Curtis, Grant Park banker. The bill recites that the state will attempt to show that during the term of Fred E. Sterling as treasurer of Illinois the defendants, together with Mr. Sterling and the late Edward C. Curtis, used $20,418,500 for personal profit. The bill also says that the state will show that Governor Small and the other defendants profited to the extent of $325,000 by the use of state funds.

Camp Grant, at Rockford, one of the big army cantonments built during the World war, will be offered to the state of Illinois for maintenance as a military training center, it was said at the War department at Washington. Ownership of the camp would remain vested in the War department, the contract with the state of Illinois providing that control of the project could be revoked at the will of the department in event of an emergency. Congressional authorization for the transfer, it was said, would not be necessary.

John Soffel, president of the Maywood State bank, was shot and killed, and Louis Sweeney, chief of police of Maywood, and Arthur Benson, a bank messenger, were shot and seriously wounded when five armed bandits in a high-powered automobile held up their machine in the heart of Maywood and escaped with a $12,000 pay roll, which the men were taking from the bank to the plant of the Maywood American Can company.

Arrangements are being made for a program of talks by distinguished persons at the celebration of the 113th birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln on February 12 in Springfield, Gen. John J. Pershing and Vice President Calvin Coolidge are among those who have given assurance that they will be present to commemorate the birth of the great emancipator who was a citizen of Springfield.

When the McLean county board of supervisors declined to make an appropriation of $10,000 to purchase the right of way for the concrete road, to be known as the Illini boulevard, under construction between Chicago and St. Louis, Mo., the business men of Bloomington subscribed $10,000 for this purpose.

Elgin Masons have subscribed more than $200,000 to a fund to erect a lodge temple during the summer.

Arrangements have been made by the Illinois department of health, division of social hygiene for the opening of two new venereal disease clinics, one at Princeton and one at Quincy. This will bring the number of such clinics in the state operated under the social hygiene department up to 20.

The farm bureau of Edgar county has advised its members to cut down on corn acreage next year and plant soy beans and clover instead. A large corn crop last year and low prices is the cause of the advice.

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY

A DISH that is nourishing enough to take the place of a main dish at dinner is:

Hominy With Olives.

Fry one small onion cut fine in a little fat until golden. Add three scant cupfuls of cooked samp or a can of hominy; stir until hot, then add one-fourth of a cupful of milk, the same of water, stirring all the time; add three-fourths of a cupful of grated cheese, and when it is melted remove from the heat before the cheese becomes stringy. Then add one-half cupful of stoned ripe olives, chopped. Season and serve at once.

Scotchies.

Take two cupfuls of rolled oats, put through the meat chopper and brown lightly in the oven. Take two tablespoonfuls of shortening melted, one-fourth of a cupful of molasses, one-teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of soda. Mix all the dry ingredients, add the melted shortening and the molasses and milk. Roll thin and cut in strips and bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven. Ice each cake as it comes from the oven with sugar melted with a little water.

Savory Sandwich Filling.

Blanch one-half cupful of almonds and brown them in a tablespoonful of cooking oil. Then chop fine. Season well with salt and paprika, and add four tablespoonfuls of chopped pickles, one tablespoonful of chutney, chopped. Spread buttered bread with cream cheese softened and sprinkled with chopped almond mixture. This is sufficient filling for a loaf of bread if the slices are cut very thin.

Liquid Yeast.

Take four medium sized potatoes, washed, pared and grated, boil about

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

MAKE HOURS COUNT

SAVING time is wasted effort unless you utilize the time you save.

Most people are in a hurry. They rush to their offices in the morning. They rush to their homes at night. When they get to the office, they sit around waiting for dinner.

About three quarters of the average man's time is spent "sitting around." And time spent sitting around is always wasted time.

You are given about eight hours to loaf if you want to and eight hours to work.

Unless you have an unusually easy job, you can save little out of the eight hours' working time.

You can save from one to five hours out of the eight, at least once or twice a week, if you are careful.

But unless you use that time, and use it wisely, there will be no sense in saving it.

Most successful men are very careful to save a little time out of the so-called idle eight hours.

They use this either to add to the efforts they put forth on their regular business, or to take up something related to their business which is inconvenient to do during working hours.

In other words they use their time as intelligently as they do their money. They make it earn dividends. And time set to work in that fashion is always a good investment.

Steamships, railroads, rapid transit lines have together affected an immense saving of time for the human race.

No longer does a man need to spend a month, practically idle all the time, going from London to New York. He can go in less than a week, with three weeks saved.

Those three weeks are worth money. They may mean success. Use them and a considerable share of all the time you save, and your output soon begins to show a gratifying increase.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE USUAL LIFE

I DO NOT wish you riches, friend,
For riches may not stay—
So much we lose, so much we lead,
So much we throw away.
I wish you only smiles through tears
And glad days in the saddest years.

I do not wish you cloudless skies;
They can't be always fair.
But may the sun that sinks arise,
The heart arise from care.
You must have clouds, but may they show
A silver lining somewhere, though.

I do not wish you only ease,
No toil for hand or brain;
They are but parasites, are these
Who live by others' pain.
No, something must your life employ—
But may your labor be a joy.

I do not wish you, friend, too much,
Each day a day of sun;
I wish you only treasures such
As other men have won.
And better friend am I than they
Who wish for you a cloudless day.

I wish for you a modest part,
And simple joys for you;
And then I hope with all my heart
That simple dream comes true.
I wish you toil, and merriment—
The usual life, with life content.

THE SOFT ANSWER

WHEN you shall see, feel and know the sovereign power of the soft answer, you will not hesitate to admit its priceless value in preserving the friendship of peoples and nations.

Though a sponsor or all that is good and noble in mankind there is an illogical willingness in most of us to shun its charming companionship and turn to rougher acquaintances.

When the world is jangling and vicious tongues are spitting fire and brimstone, it is quite natural for us to pile more fuel on the flame, regardless of the spreading conflagration, even though it be singeing the good names of our friends.

We lose our grip on self-respect until calmness comes with afterthought, and shows us the error of our way.

For days we move shame-facedly from pillar to post, avoiding the friends we have hurt. And aside from the terror of separation which confronts us, we are tormented by

THE FRIENDLY PATH

DONT count over your burdens. They'll seem greater if you do.

It is always poor policy to go about trying to find all the disconcerting things along the pathway of life. Those which are of sufficient importance to command one's attention are sure to bob up without a search.

Never meet trouble until trouble meets you. If it's going to overtake you, it'll do soon enough. It is always good policy to be prepared for difficulties in order that they may easily be overcome. But to be prepared does not mean that one must constantly go about with strings on his fingers so that he may not forget any of the problems which are likely to bob up.

Nearly all the stumbling blocks along the trail followed by humans in this world are imaginary. But for their willingness to admit that they face serious problems, most of the discontented would hardly know that they are battling against odds when they actually are.

Because one has to face a trying task or great disappointment, does not mean that he is more unfortunate than others, nor that fate has turned against him. No one ever passed down the pathway to the valley of contentment (as they believed it) without working against odds at times and not infrequently being displeased when progress seemed slow. The same is true in the efforts of all who have tried to climb the steep places on the way to success, for neither in arriving at material goals nor in seeking the peace of comforting surroundings with there not be some troubles which have to be met.

But when one counts over the burdens which he expects or regrets, the future will usually appear to have a darker aspect than is justified by developments. If one tries to find the bright side, he'll usually be so greatly enthused by his prospects that the burdens will seem small and easy to face.

We had but recently moved into the town, writes a correspondent, and I went to church on Sunday, accompanied by my daughter.

After the services the minister rushed to the door to shake hands with us, and said to Hilda: "And why didn't you bring your daddy with you?"

She replied, "Oh, he's home taking care of brother. He doesn't care for churches or picture shows, anyway."

Autos Named, Like Boats.

Autos in Paris are beginning to dispute yachts of the sea and fleet horses of the tracks the right to individualities of their own. Here and there one sees an imposing car bearing on the radiator the name chosen by the owner, perhaps fanciful, perhaps that of some dear one, and the fad is rapidly becoming popular. Names of persons thus far are more often seen than those of poetical, historical or literary allusion, and already the new fashion is giving rise to good-natured gossip.

Now the "Hydro-Glider."

A new "hydro-glider" just completed on the west coast is described in Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is said to provide all the thrill and speed of a hydroplane gliding over the surface of the ocean. In fact, it amounts practically to a flying boat without wings, and is driven over the surface of the water by an air-propeller motor at a speed of sixty miles an hour.

PIGS IN WINT

"Grunt, grunt," said Porky. "I will be glad to come."

"Can be a pig," said the old man, "dig into the ground in the hope that I may find more to eat."

"I do not care so much for the winter and the old barn," said Sammy Sausage.

"What are you going to do about it? Squeal, squeal, will you answer that question for me?"

"Cheer Up, Porky." "There is nothing to be done about it as far as I can see, grunt, grunt," said Pinky Pig.

"Nothing at all," said Miss Ham. "Squeal, squeal, there's nothing to be done about it at all."

"You might just as well not think about it," said Master Pinky Pig. "Squeal, squeal, that's what I say."

"Better think of something else, grunt, grunt, grunt," said Brother Bacon.

"There will be winter whether you like it or not," said Mrs. Pink Pig. "Squeal, squeal, that is the truth."

"It is indeed the truth," said Pinky Pig's mother. "Grunt, grunt, it is the truth."

"Just cheer up, Porky," said Miss Ham, "and think of the spring that is coming, and the mud that there will be. There is always mud in the spring."

"Ah," said Porky, "I know all that, and I know, too, that there is no sense whatever in wishing it were spring when it is summer."

"For winter won't oblige a nice old pig like that. I know winter won't."

"But oh, pig friends, it is not only because I have no mud to dig in that I feel badly, but because I cannot bear to look out of the barn window and see that white, clean-looking snow."

"I don't like the snow."

"Now they say that in some places the snow gets dirty. Then I have more respect for the snow."

"I've seen the snow get dirty towards spring, but then it was because it was sensible anyway to let spring come to its place. So it begins then to be more sensible by letting itself be dirty."

"But in the winter to look at all that whiteness—just miles and miles of whiteness! Oh dear, what a weariness it is that for a pig."

"I don't care to look at all the clean white snow. I don't care for sunlight at all."

"Neither do we, grunt, grunt," said the other pigs.

"Ah, we all think the same about it. We all do! I am glad of that," said Grandfather Porky. "I look out at my little eyes and I say to myself, 'What ridiculous clean white snow is!'"

"Well," said Miss Ham, "at least, E. P. H. doesn't suppose any one ever described snow in just that fashion."

"I don't suppose so," said Grandfather Porky. "Because 'everybody' isn't a pig, and everyone can't squeal or grunt as a pig can."

"Most creatures can only say what it is cold in the winter or that it has been a storm or that there is a snow in just that fashion."

"But it takes a pig to properly describe the winter, and it takes Grandfather Porky Pig to do it in perfect fashion."

"Yes, snow is ridiculous clean white stuff. It isn't good to eat, it likes to be clean rather than dirty."

"It is cold and tiresome, and it can't be chewed or swallowed."

"Of course, it can be swallowed if any one wants to swallow it. But if we had a lot of pig weed 'Wretched View' spreading itself all over the ground in the winter instead of snow—that would be something like!"

"Something like?" asked Miss Ham. "Something like—what?"

"That would be something worth while," said Grandfather Porky Pig. "But, of course, I might as well be cheery and not think of it, for the winter isn't going to pay any attention to what I say."

"That shows in itself how foolish the winter is, grunt, grunt, squeal, squeal."

Where Rookie Bathed.

One rookie to another at one of the camps.

"Where do you bathe?"

"In the spring."

"I didn't ask you when. I asked you where."

EXIT WINTER MILLINERY; SIMPLE STYLE IN BLOUSES

IT IS only the aristocrats among hats that survive the length of the season to find themselves admired and salable at its close—when all their lovely companions are faded and gone. These hats have excellences that give them a lasting appeal; in beauty and becomingness of lines, in unusual or ingenious drapery or in flattering color combinations. Nevertheless they must soon make way for hats of another character—those between-seasons affairs of silk, satin and other fabrics that fill in the gap between late winter and spring, so that milliners are willing to part with fine winter hats at a sacrifice.

Three examples of the survival of the fittest in winter millinery are stage in great force. In the meantime blouses that are to do service between now and spring are selling freely and the taste of the public, tested by its demands, is shown to run to simple styles and staple fabrics. The stamp of approval has been set on crepe de chine, in which the suit colors are liked best. Navy blue and henna have the greatest number of admirers and, with the exception of tan and bisque, light colors are neglected for the time being. For trimmings bead embroidery is preferred, but narrow ribbons and simple stitchery answer the purpose of trimming admirably on these unpretentious blouses.

smock are sure to be selected when simplicity is the keynote of the mode and in materials, beside crepe de chine, tricolette and georgette are given considerable attention. The two blouses which have been selected for illustration, are representative of those shown in the stores for present wear.

One of them, cut in kimono style, is made of navy blue crepe de chine and contents itself with such naive decoration as navy satin ribbon, having a bright green edge, and a tiny silk braid that outlines the neck. Its girldie is made of the crepe de chine and set loosely below the waistline. Girldies on blouses are inconspicuous.

The companion blouse, of henna crepe, employs black and white beads for trimming in a design that is modest but distinctive. It has set-in sleeves. The crepe de chine blouse does not belong to one but to all seasons of the year and this would insure it consideration, even if this beautiful fabric were not a perennial favorite.

Lingerie waists of batiste and voile are among the staple things that change little in style and they may be made up now for next spring and summer.

Other noteworthy hats that hold a brief for winter show metal brocades, velvet and fur in rich combinations, all in small or medium sizes.

Behind the scenes, waiting their cue to enter, are the blouses of spring. They will soon occupy fashion's stage in great force. In the meantime blouses that are to do service between now and spring are selling freely and the taste of the public, tested by its demands, is shown to run to simple styles and staple fabrics.

The stamp of approval has been set on crepe de chine, in which the suit colors are liked best. Navy blue and henna have the greatest number of admirers and, with the exception of tan and bisque, light colors are neglected for the time being.

For trimmings bead embroidery is preferred, but narrow ribbons and simple stitchery answer the purpose of trimming admirably on these unpretentious blouses.

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY

Our dietitians tell us that the average American eats at least one-third more food than he needs. If we could learn to stop eating before we have reached the stage of being stuffed, and masticate what we do eat at least four times as long as we usually do, we would find that we would be satisfied with much less food, have less stomach trouble and live more useful and efficient lives.

In almost every part of the United States there are apples to be found. Where there are no orchards, there are apples to be procured from the markets. As they are the most wholesome of fruits they should be served in a variety of ways, so that they never become monotonous.

For an entree to serve with the main dish at dinner there is no sweeter more attractive than baked apple slices. Core the apples before peeling; peel, then cut in slices one-half inch thick and place in a well-greased baking dish, giving each slice plenty of room so that they may be removed after baking without breaking. Sprinkle with sugar, a bit of butter and a thick grating of nutmeg. Bake and baste with a bit of hot water to start with, then with the juice of the apple. When tender serve one slice with the meat or as a separate dish.

Eggs Shirred With Sausages.—Prick six sausages all over and place around the edge of a baking dish, and cook in the oven until crisp; pour off the fat and cut the sausages into inch pieces; break three fresh eggs in the center of the dish, pour over two tablespoonsfuls of fat and set in the oven to cook the eggs. Serve in the baking dish.

Apple Pie a la Mode.—Bake an apple pie as usual, and serve with a caramel ice cream, a spoonful on top of each piece when serving. To prepare the caramel, brown a cupful of sugar in a smooth omelet pan, add hot milk, and when melted add enough cream to make it as rich as one likes, a sprinkling of salt, and sugar to sweeten. Browning the sugar takes away its sweetness.

Good luck they bring and secrets tell;
Blessed were they by sanded Friar,

GOOD IDEAS FOR THE COOK

As food materials differ in price with the locality and with the season it is often impossible to follow a recipe, as we find some ingredient either too expensive or difficult to obtain. If the housewife understands the composition of foods she can substitute some other food material with good results.

For example, when butter is called for, chicken fat, sour cream, clarified bacon fat or some one of the butter substitutes may be used. Cream contains more water than butter, chicken fat less; so in using such fats this must be taken into account.

Chopped nuts are also added to dishes to add to the food value. All these things are invaluable knowledge for the housewife to have. It is easy to find from bulletins published by the United States Department of Agriculture almost anything in regard to foods.

The following data will be helpful culture almost anything in regard to foods:

One cupful of whole milk, two tablespoonsful, all measurements level.

One cupful of cream, three tablespoonsful; double cream, six tablespoonsful.

Butter, one cupful, fourteen tablespoonsful; the two unaccounted for, salt and moisture.

One cupful of English walnut meats, two-thirds of a cupful of fat.

Peanuts, one cupful, about one-third fat.

Chocolate, one square (one ounce), one tablespoonful of fat (scant).

Grated cheese (four ounces), one cupful; two and one-half tablespoonsful of fat.

One egg yolk, a little more than a teaspoonful; a whole egg the same.

Vegetable oils, from which all water has been driven off, contain one cupful to one cupful.

In a cake in which two-thirds of a cupful of butter is required and one cupful of milk, using a cupful of cream, reducing the butter two tablespoonsful and two tablespoonsful of water added, will make the proportions right.

After the cooking dishes are used or even while in the process of cooking the dishes may be washed and put away. They wash much easier before the food is allowed to dry.

In all homes there should be an emergency shelf of canned goods and foods to be quickly prepared. It is like a bank account—a "source of help in time of trouble."

BLANCHE BLAIR

THAT Tanlac is a wonderful medicine for delicate children is conclusively proven by the remarkable results accomplished in the cases of the three children shown in this picture.

Little Blanche Blair, of Providence, R. I., age 13, gained 10 pounds; Regina McCabe, at right, age 9, of Scranton, Pa., gained 15 pounds; little Richard Leary, Jr., of Philadelphia, who was very delicate, is now in fine, robust health. The statements made by their parents are as follows:

Mr. A. M. Blair, residing at 20 Atwood street, Providence, R. I., said: "We are just so happy over the change Tanlac has made in our little girl that we can't do or say enough to show our appreciation. She had lost nearly 20 pounds in weight and looked so frail and weak that her mother and I were both almost worried sick over her condition. Since taking Tanlac, she has already gained 10 pounds, her color is better than it ever has been and she looks and acts like a different girl."

Mrs. Catherine McCabe, 414 Dickens Ave., Scranton, Pa., said: "The 'flu' left my little Regina in such a bad condition that I have no idea she would be with me now if it hadn't been for Tanlac. It is a mystery to me how she lived on the little she was eating and was so lifeless she never even cared to play with the dolls and toys she got at Christmas. Since taking Tanlac she is as hardy and well as any child could be and has gained 15 pounds in weight. I will always praise Tanlac for restoring our little girl's health."

Richard Leary, 2342 Palmetto St., Philadelphia, said: "There is no doubt in my mind but that Tanlac saved my little boy's life. For two years I wouldn't have been a bit surprised to have seen him drop off at any time. He had stomach trouble and many a time the gas pressed up into his chest until his heart palpitated so I thought sure he couldn't breathe but a few more gasps. But Tanlac gave him back to us strong and well and we will praise it to our dying day."

The effect of Tanlac on the delicate stomachs of the young is one of the strongest evidences of its wholesomeness as well as its unusual merit. Although a powerful reconstructive, Tanlac contains no harmful ingredients, minerals or opiates which are so often found in other medicines. Being composed of the most beneficial roots and herbs known to science it is purely vegetable and can be taken by the most delicate children, and does not upset or injure the weakest or most delicate stomach.

There is a Tanlac agent in every town.—Advertisement.

Cities as Thunderstorm Spots.

The conclusion has been reached by a well-known engineer who has given the subject considerable attention that certain cities, if not indeed most inland cities of say 100,000 population or more, appear to be "thunderstorm spots." The observation has been made by E. R. Horton, of Voorheesville, N. Y., who also points out that "a shallow lake with sandy margins located in a forest may serve as a thunderstorm breeder" and cites as proof observations made by him over Onondaga lake, New York.

Old Court Has Much Power.

In Liverpool (Eng.) there still exists one of the very few remaining medieval borough courts of record. At one time there were 215 in various parts of the kingdom. The Liverpool court of passage, as it is called, has practically unlimited jurisdiction in cases of action arising within the city, and has more power than has the City of London court which has jurisdiction only when the defendant is employed in the city itself.

Misery loves company, but the company isn't apt to make a second call.

Nature's Supreme Wisdom.

If it were not for the check that winter interposes, vegetation would climb skyward until we had tropical jungles and flowers high in the branches of the forest, instead of violets and daisies and lady's-slipper orchids. As it is, the year's tender growths decay in the wet and cold of winter, furnish shelter to the seeds of grasses and small woodland plants, and so foster a new growth for the coming of spring. Even in decay there is a purpose; in nature always there is a new beginning.—Youth's Companion.

Jewish Physicians to Popes.

Many examples might be enumerated of popes who patronized Jewish physicians. An exception was Paul IV, who introduced the Ghetto into Rome, but at least a score of popes seem to have gone out of their way in extending friendly recognition to the medical members of this race.

A "balanced diet" may sound confusing to many people

The facts, as explained here, are simple.

The secret of a "balanced diet" is to have food containing all the elements needed for proper nutrition. These elements are protein, to nourish the tissues; starch and sugar to furnish energy; fat to supply heat; and mineral salts to provide the material necessary for building nerves, brain, and tooth and bone structure.

Grape-Nuts, the nourishing cereal made of whole wheat flour and malted barley, served with cream or milk, is a complete food for young and old alike.

Go to your grocer today and get a package of Grape-Nuts. Eat it with milk or cream for breakfast; or with stewed fruit, jelly or jam, as a delicious dessert for lunch or dinner.

Every member of the family will relish this palatable and nourishing food—

Raise Farm Land Taxes.

Illinois farmers will pay $226,000 more taxes for 1921, as the result of a decision against them handed down by the Illinois Tax Commission. The decision approved the tentative increase of $56,000,000 in the valuation of farm lands more than the amount specified by the county boards of review, and continues for 1921 the policy of singling out lands alone for a valuation separate from that of other classes of State taxable property.

The Cook County Farm Bureau had helped to protest the raise in taxes, as well as the other county farm bureaus of the state and the Illinois Agricultural Association.

The total assessed valuation on lands returned by the county boards of review of 1921 amounted to $1,151,866,018. The 1921 tax commission added $56,104,509 to this on its own separate valuation early this year, thereby increasing the total for lands to $1,207,970,527.

At the hearing on Dec. 14, the county farm bureaus and the A. A. protested the raise in land taxes, presenting evidence that it had taken them 6 months to collect. Part of this evidence was a survey of true cash values of land, begun in April 1921, which included nearly 2,500 individual estimates with 60 counties complete and 16 others nearly so. Estimates of the true cash value of land were made by three citizens in each township, all township figures being averaged to obtain a county estimate.

These figures showed that land values had declined from twenty to fifty percent and even more, in some counties since 1919, that lands were now giving a very meagre return on the investment and that the tax commission had no accurate basis of information upon which to base land valuations $56,000,000 higher than those returned by the county boards of review.

The principle of singling out lands alone for a valuation higher than county board of review figures, is a vicious one," said Geo. A. Fox, treasurer of the A. A. "This principle singles out one form of property for a valuation higher than that of all other property, and is a direct violation of the principle of equality."

returned for another term. Mr. Bentley was defeated at the last election, but has announced his willingness to be a candidate again.

By having men of toil and of the soil representing the public of the legislative halls, it is certain that more adequate and protecting laws will be assured and many of the evils of the present corrupt politics will be eliminated.

Seen & Heard

—BY ANDY DABS—

It was midnight on the Ocean,
Not a Street Car was in sight;
The Sun was shining brightly,
And it rained, all day that night.
T'was a summer night in winter
And the rain went howling, squalling,
In a bang,
A barefoot boy, with shoes on stood sitting on the ceiling.

It was evening and the rising sun was setting in the North
And the little fishes in the trees were gayly rising forth.
The rain was pouring down.
The moon was shining bright
And every thing that you could see was hidden out of sight.

While the organ, peeled potatoes,
Lard was rendered by the choir;
While the sexton rang the dish rag.
Some one set the church on fire.
"Holy smoke," the preacher
shouted,
In the rain he lost his hair.
Now his head resembles heaven
For there is no parting there.

The county is dry — Yes! Try
